COMMERCE,

Plaintiff-Intervenors,

v.

FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION,

Defendant.

Civil Action No. 3:24-CV-00986-E

Hon. Ada Brown

UNOPPOSED MOTION OF AMERICAN PROPERTY CASUALTY
INSURANCE ASSOCIATION FOR LEAVE TO FILE BRIEF AS *AMICUS
CURIAE* IN SUPPORT OF PLAINTIFF’S AND INTERVENORS’ MOTIONS FOR SUMMARY JUDGMENT

The American Property Casualty Insurance Association (“APCIA”) respectfully moves this Court for leave to file a brief as amicus curiae in support of Plaintiff’s and Intervenors’ motions for summary judgment. For reasons described below, the proposed brief includes relevant information that may aid this Court in resolving these motions. Counsel for the Parties have been consulted, and all consent to this motion.

APCIA, as the nation's premier insurance trade association, with members writing 65 percent of the U.S. property casualty insurance market, is particularly well-situated to opine on the FTC's Non-Compete Rule, 89 Fed. Reg. 38,342 (May 7, 2024) (the "Rule"), given the widespread use of non-compete agreements in the property casualty insurance industry, as well as the insurance industry's unique experience with the limits of the FTC's statutory authority.

This case involves a challenge to the FTC's unprecedented attempt to claim substantive rulemaking authority with respect to unfair methods of competition, and the FTC maintains that its statutory authority to promulgate the Rule can be found in subsection (g) of Section 6 of the Federal Trade Commission Act, 15 U.S.C. § 46(g). The insurance industry in general, and APCIA in particular (through its legacy organization the American Insurance Association), has previously been involved with efforts by Congress to clarify the limits of the FTC's Section 6 authority, and as a result wishes to opine on the Rule – which could have considerable impact on the insurance industry given its widespread use of non-compete clauses – and to share information relating to Section 6 authority that is otherwise unlikely to be brought to the attention of the Court by the Parties.

APCIA also has a unique vantage point into questions pertaining to the FTC's authority to preempt state law. The "business of insurance" has for many decades fallen beyond the reach of the Federal Trade Commission Act due to a statutory exemption found in the McCarran-Ferguson Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1011 et seq. As representatives of an industry where federal law recognizes the primacy of state regulation, APCIA believes that the potential preemptory effect of the Rule on the many state-level statutory regimes regulating the use of non-compete clauses is worthy of this Court's attention.

CONCLUSION

The Court should grant leave for APCIA to file the contemporaneously-submitted brief as amicus curiae in support of Plaintiff's and Intervenors' motions for summary judgment.
